

The FPC CBP released its final publication , analysing the impact of the global financial crisis on private capital flows to LICs. It is based on the analytical work conducted by the country teams in the FPC CBP participating countries, and contains many recommendations on how to maximise the contribution private flows make to development in LICs by reforming the global financial architecture, increasing and stabilising flows, changing their composition, accelerating diversification of sources and destinations, promoting dynamic sectors, responding to investor perceptions, and enhancing LIC monitoring, analysis and policymaking capacity.
