

DRI has helped many countries to forestall litigation or negotiate with creditors threatening litigation, as well as putting them in touch with the best international lawyers who will offer high quality subsidized or pro bono services to help defend lawsuits. It also helps countries to exchange information with one another on how they have avoided or defended litigation.

For more information and to request assistance, please contact DFI